

Awareness Programme on Hand Hygiene
Division of Agricultural Extension
ICAR-Indian Agricultural Research Institute, New Delhi

Under MeraGaonMera Gaurav, Division of Agricultural Extension, ICAR-Indian Agricultural Research Institute (IARI), New Delhi organized a campaign on Importance of Hygiene to maintain good health especially during Covid-19 pandemic situation among farmers and rural women. This programme was organized in villages Jagdishpur and Bayyanpur, Sonapat District, Haryana and also in KVK Jagdishpur on 10th Nov. 2020. The main purpose of this programme was to make the farmers and rural women aware about importance of hand hygiene especially nail hygiene which significantly contributes in reducing healthcare associated infection. Dr. V.Sangeetha, Scientist and project staff, Division of Agricultural Extension, ICAR-IARI organized this programme with the help of Dr. Joginder Singh, Associate Professor, KVK Jagdishpur. The programme ended with vote of thanks to all those involved in organizing it.

Dr. V.Sangeetha with KVK Head and Staff, Jagdishpur, Sonipat

Farmers & rural women with pamphlets on importance of hand hygiene

Scheduled caste rural women and men with Nail Clippers